EDWARD NEEDS ROSTER FOR HIS GRANDPARENTS

When Edward John Brady started life off in Gardena Hospital the day after Christmas, he was able to boast of more grandparents than any three or four of his classmates combined.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brady, of 2219 W. 248th St., young Edward has 13 living grandparents.

Starting on his father's side, Edward can count Mr. and Mrs. Basil Brady, of 1880 Plaza Del Amo, his grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brady of Mariposa, great-grandparents; and Mrs. Sarah Wilson of Texas, a great-great-grandmother.

Counting grandparents on his mother's side, Edward starts with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thompson of 917 Kornblum Ave., grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Trent, of Montana, great-grandparents; Mrs. May Frances, of Montana, a great-great-grandmother; and Mrs. E. W. Thompson, also of Montana, another great-great-grandmother.

When little Edward says he wants to go to Grandma's house—he's going to have to be specific.

Kiwianians to Hear Speech

The subject of career opportunities in the growing printing industry of Southern California will be discussed by Scotty Matraw of Hillside Press, at the Torrance Kiwanis Club meeting at 6:30 p.m., Monday, in the American Legion Hall.

More than 100 local graphic arts representatives are speaking at schools, business groups, civic organizations and service clubs this month in conjunction with International Printing Week which is being observed Jan. 12-18.

Printing Week is celebrated throughout the United States, and in Canada and Hawaii, each January coincident with the birthdate of Benjamin Franklin, patron saint of all printers. The local observance is sponsored by the Printing Week Council of Greater Los Angeles, Inc., an organization composed of the Southland's major graphic arts associations.

"For the most part, cute dishes are seldom seen in the kitchen!"
